

Privacy & Cookies Policy

This privacy policy describes the way that we collect, use, disclose and storage personal information which is transmitted directly or through our website.

Principles

Our data protection policy is based on the following data protection principles:

- The processing of personal data will be done in a legal, fair and transparent manner;
- The collection of personal data will be done only for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes and the data will not be further processed in a manner incompatible with those purposes;
- The collection of personal data will be adequate, relevant and limited to the information necessary for the purpose of processing;
- Personal data will be accurate and, where necessary, updated;
- All necessary measures shall be taken to ensure that incorrect data are deleted or corrected without delay;
- Personal data will be kept in a form that allows the identification of the data subject and for a period not longer than the one in which the personal data are processed;
- All personal data will be kept confidential and stored in a manner that ensures the necessary security;
- Personal data will not be shared with third parties unless necessary for the purpose of providing services under the agreements;
- Data subjects have the right to request access to, rectification and deletion of personal data, to oppose or restrict data processing as well as the right to data portability.

Personal data

Examples of information that our company collects include name, profession, specialization, addresses, e-mail addresses and telephone numbers. Some information we collect is data that connects you to an identifiable person ("Personal Data").

Share of personal data

If Personal Information is posted on the website in public areas, it may be accessed by people from countries outside the European Economic Area, who may not provide an adequate level of protection.

Honest and secure processing of personal data

Our privacy policy requires that we take all necessary steps to ensure that all Personal Information belonging to members of our society is processed honestly and legally. We take all necessary steps to implement and maintain this Privacy Policy. All our employees and data processors who have access to Personal Data are obliged to respect the confidentiality of Personal Data.

Access and corrections

By contacting our society, any person or member already affiliated can find out which of his Personal Information is kept. We will respond to requests within 30 days. If we are unable to provide information about Personal Information, we will disclose the reasons for such refusal. In order to keep your Personal Information correct, up-to-date and complete, we ask members already affiliated to contact us about any incorrect information. We will update and correct the Personal Information in our possession.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files that a website can send to the user's search engines to be saved on his hard drive. Cookies can facilitate the use of the web by saving and managing statuses, applications, preferences and other information about the user. Most search engines are initially set with the option to accept cookies, but users can change this setting to decline cookies or to be alerted when cookies are sent.

Links to other websites

Our website may contain links or references to other websites in order to help the user. Our society is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such websites and, in any case, this Privacy Policy does not apply to those websites, for the knowledge of which we recommend to read the privacy policy of each website which you visit.

Email address

If the user subscribes to our email alert system, we collect the email address. This address will be used exclusively to keep users updated with information. Any user wishing to unsubscribe from our email alert list can do so at any time according to the instructions provided in each email they receive or by contacting us at the following email address contact@srnefro.ro.

Amendments

Our society may revise this Privacy Policy. Users agree to any such revision and should therefore visit this page periodically to ascertain the terms in force that they have agreed to.

Collecting Personal Data and its purpose

Our society collects and stores personal information about each package it takes over in order to provide and facilitate its members, as well as professionals in the renal field and kidney transplantation, interested in accurate information in the field of nephrology, but also participation in various profile events (congresses, forums, colloquia, etc.). Our society uses information about its members, events and history of profile activities and events to achieve or improve the quality it provides to customers, to properly inform members and professionals about their professional activity, for analysis and renal studies.

Any personal data we collect will be used exclusively for the purpose of carrying out the activities of the Romanian Society of Nephrology under appropriate conditions and will only be stored for the period when the users are members of the society.

Third parties

As we collect and use data about our members, we have the opportunity to interact with various service providers to help us process and store this information for the purposes mentioned in the previous paragraph. We require these service providers to maintain the confidentiality of the data and prohibit them from using the information for any other purpose.

With regard to the Personal Data of our members that we hold, we will constantly monitor compliance by third parties who process it, such as suppliers or contractors, with the provisions of the applicable legislation and regulations.

Our websites

The following paragraphs describe our commitment to the protection of Personal Data applied to our websites.

Except as otherwise provided, we may use the information provided by the user to improve the content of our website, to customize the website to the preferences of members or potential members, to communicate various information (if requested), for purposes marketing and research, as well as for other purposes as set out in this Privacy Policy. We may disclose Members' Personal Data if required to do so by law, a court decision or government regulations.

Collecting Personal Data on our websites

Users can visit the majority pages of our websites without disclosing who they are and without providing any information about them. However, some of our interactive services require users to show up to activate the interactive feature. Thus, our society may require users to provide Personal Data. We may distribute such information for the purpose for which the users originally disclosed it (eg attending a conference or making travel or accommodation reservations in order to attend an event organized by our society or in which our society is a partner or affiliated with).

Active collection of Personal Data and its purpose

During the users' visit on our websites, there will be actively collected data from both its visitors by requesting answers to specific questions, as well as by the possibility offered to communicate directly with us by e-mail. Some information provided by the user may be included in the Personal Data category.

Some areas of the website may request Personal Data to allow users to benefit from certain features (such as email alerts or newsletter subscriptions). At each information collection point, the user will be informed about the requested information and the purpose of this request.

Passive collection of Personal Data and its purpose

While the user is browsing a website, certain information may be collected passively (in the sense that it is collected without actively providing this information) through the use of various technologies and means, such as Internet Protocol addresses, cookies (to be seen in the next paragraph), Internet tags and data collection on site navigation. This website uses Internet Protocol (IP) addresses. An IP address is a number assigned to your computer by your Internet service provider so that you can access the Internet. Our society uses the IP address to diagnose problems with our server, to report aggregate information, to determine the fastest way to the user's computer to connect to our site, and to manage and improve the site.

Security

Our society takes all reasonable steps to protect Personal Data as it has been collected when using the Website and to protect such Personal Data from loss, misuse or unauthorized access, disclosure, modification or destruction.

Users are kindly requested to note that the internet connection is not 100% secure or error-free. In particular, emails sent to or from any website may not be secure, so you should be especially careful when deciding what information to send by email. In addition, where passwords, ID cards, C.N.P., or any other aspects of special access to this site are used, it is the responsibility of each user to keep them secure.
